The Passaic County Historical Society operates a museum and research library within the stately confines of Lambert Castle, a Victorian era mansion built in 1892 by silk magnate, Catholina Lambert. This imposing work of architectural splendor is located on the slope of Garret Mountain overlooking the cityscape of historic Paterson. The Society has a unique collection of materials related to the local history of cities and towns within Passaic County as well as an extensive body of genealogical information on thousands of families who lived within the county. This publication is intended as a guide to items in our collections that will prove useful and time saving to researchers in genealogy and local history.
